

GET AHEAD OF THE GAME WITH CANCER CARE REVIEWS

The CCG are offering Practice Nurses the opportunity of a free 1-day nurse training course taking place on:

Date: Tuesday, 3rd September 2019

Venue: Conference Room, Princess of Wales Hospital, Ely, CB6 1DN

The course is intended for Practices Nurses, but anyone who undertakes cancer care reviews within your practice are invited to attend.

This course is delivered by a Macmillan Nurse and will cover the skills involved to do a meaningful cancer care review using the Macmillan template including sessions on:

- Cancer Treatments
- Social Prescribing
- Signposting
- Behaviour Change and living well
- HNA – a tool to assist assessment
- Lifestyle and Screening
- Cancer Emergencies
- Introduction to Communication for Cancer Care Reviews
- Cancer Care Reviews – Practical Session
- Opportunity to speak with CCG GP Clinical Leads for Cancer

As cancer becomes increasingly treated as a long-term condition it will become more important to deliver proper care within primary care, similar to how diabetic care has changed. We expect this will be properly funded probably through PCNs.

This course follows on from the successful 3-day Practice Nurse training course which was attended by 16 practices.

This one-day course is open to all practices.

Please contact Jane Steward, Project & Service Improvement Manager for further details or to book your place. Email: jane.steward1@nhs.net

Contact Dr Oliver Stovin or Dr Stuti Mukherjee if you would like any additional clinical information on emails:

oliver.stovin@nhs.net
stuti.mukherjee@nhs.net