

Join the Patient and Public Voices Forum and help put people and communities at the heart of the NHS Cancer Programme

The NHS Cancer Programme exists to improve early diagnosis, survival, quality of life and patient experience for people with cancer across England.

Our Patient and Public Voices Forum allows the NHS Cancer Programme to be shaped by patient, carer and family perspectives.

We are looking for people across England, who are passionate about the NHS, and can spare a few days this year to help us transform cancer services.
