111 can help

If you need urgent medical help that isn't an emergency, Think 111 First. 111 will give you advice and can make an appointment for you with a GP, nurse, emergency dentist or at an Accident & Emergency department if you need it.

111 can help you with lots of issues, including:

If you need a translator to help you understand the advice you get, please call 111 and let the person answering the phone know you will need someone to help you translate.

If you are Deaf and want to use the phone service, you can use the NHS 111 British Sign Language service via interpreternow.co.uk/nhs111. You can also call 18001 111 via textphone.
